DIED.

VICINDA M. NOEL departed this life the 22d day of July, 1891, at her home near Olean in Moniteau county, Mo.

She is supposed to have died from consumption, having lingered a long while in suffering, but patient and resigned; she leaves a devoted husband, two daughters and one son to mourn her loss. She died in the hope of a glorious immortality, having connected herself with the church of Christ, in which she lived a devoted and consistent member for fifteen years. Brother and Sister Noel walked this life together for 27 years; Sister Noel was 49 years of age at her death.

Brother Noel feels his great loss and desires to return his sincere thanks to friends who ministered to and helped sister Noel and family in their sore affliction, and would sincerely remember and thank Dr. Allee as her attending physician for his devoted zeal and patient labor, which he manifested during her sickness. The writer of this attended her funeral, where there were a goodly number of her friends and relatives assembled, and spake words of comfort to the bereft. E. F. H.

6 Aug 1891 Died.

In this city Saturday last WILLIAM youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bahn, aged 11 months. The little boy low was afflicted with summer complaint. He was a bright child and the pride of devoted parents.

Death of Fritz Kurtz.

Mr. Fritz Kurtz died suddenly at his home in Linn township Saturday. He became over-heated Saturday at work with a swarm of bees and died Sunday. It appears he put on a lot of extra clothing and had his face and head wrapped and became over-heated before he was aware of the danger. He was a young married man and leaves a wife and several children. His wife is a daughter of Mr. Wm. Gatchett and grand-daughter of Uncle "Buck" Dearling who died several years ago.

13 Aug 1891

DIED.—In this city Saturday Walter, aged seventeen months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Voelker. The circumstances surrounding little Walter's death are distressing. His mother had a pan of hot water on the porch and at an unguarded moment the little fellow got hold of the pan and jostled the water on himself covering his neck and breast. The accident happened Friday morning; medical aid was immediately summoned but the burn was too deep and the little fellow died Saturday morning. Was buried at the Lutheran cemetery in this city Sunday. The parents have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

He raised a family of eleven children, nine of whom are now living; Jim Williams was an upright honest man and was highly respected by his neighbors. Death of J. F. Moore.

One of Linn township's old and honored citizens J. Frank Moore, died on his home farm in that township Friday of last week, aged 74 years. He had not been enjoying good health for some time, and after a short spell of eryipelas, he passed away. His father, James Moore died some twenty years ago at an advanced age and his uncle Robt. Moore, died in Pilot Grove township, some five or six years ago, close to 90 years of age. Mr. Moore was the youngest and last of his immediate family, his brother John Moore, preceding him some three years ago, being advanced in years. Mr. Frank Moore raised a large family of children, eight of whom are now living, grown and have families. He was one of those sturdy energetic pushing men, correct in his dealings with all, a man of decided character and true to his friends. Has lived near where he died from his early youth and has been a member of the Baptist church from early manhood. His children were all with him in his last hours, with the exception of Mrs. Coley Bruce who resides in Oklahoma Territory. The remains were laid away Wednesday at Old Mt. Zion cemetery.

OBITUARY—J. F. MOORE.

DIED—At his residence in Linn township on September 15, at 10:25 a. m., of erysipelas, James F. Moore, after an illness of 10 days, aged 74 years.

Mr. Moore was born in Kentucky July 6th, 1817, and came with his father to Missouri in 1818 or 1819, and died within one and one-half miles of what was then called the old Shop Spring, where his father first pitched his tent when he came to Missouri, having been a resident of Linn township 72 or 73 years. He grew up to manhood on his father's farm near the Missouri river, learning the blacksmith trade at which, in connection with farming, he worked until, 1865. He made many of the wagons which were taken to California in 1849-50-51, working through the day and into the night until the chickens would crow for daylight, when he would go to the house and get a little rest.

In 1842 he married Paulina Vivian of which union 8 children were born, five of whom are living. In 1856 his first wife died and in 1857 he married Mary F. Alexander who died in 1861 leaving two children. In 1864 he was married to Alpha A. Given, a sister of his first wife by whom he had one child.

He was a very successful farmer, owning at one time 600 acres of fine land, giving both his boys good farms and leaving quite a large estate to be divided among all his children.

He was a very successful farmer, owning at one time 600 acres of fine land, giving both his boys good farms and leaving quite a large estate to be divided among all his children.

We knew Mr. Moore intimately for over 30 years and it is our tribute to his memory that a more industrious, energetic and honest man never lived. He was a man of marked individuality and of strong personality. He possessed an iron will which would brook no opposition and a judgment that rarely ever erred in its estimate of men and things; there will never be another Frank Moore. As a man he stood four square to the world and bolt upright in his manhood. He had been a consistent member of Mt. Zion church 45 years. His old friend Rev. Duncan who had known him well for 55 or 56 years preached his funeral discourse to a large audience of weeping friends, after which his remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Zion cemetery to await God's great reville.

Dear children, we sorrow not as those who have no hope for if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

Death of Dr. Bolinger.

Dr. George M. Bolinger passed away at 4 o'clock last Saturday morning after a lingering illness. He was born in 1841 and was 50 years of age. He had been complaining for some time and his friends had never anticipated his recovery and were not surprised to hear of his death at any time. Dr. Bolinger was president of the Citizens Bank of this city, and by his honorable dealings and strict attention to business had accumulated considerable wealth. He was a man well-liked by everybody and it were those who knew him best that held his friendship dearest. He was not a member of any denomination, but possessed a kind christian spirit and was always found among good people. No man was held in higher esteem by our people than Mr. Bolinger, and in his death our city suffers an irreparable loss. Mr. Barney Zick, Sr. made a beautiful talk to the relatives and friends of the deceased at the Atlantic Hotel, after which the remains were taken to Lees Summit for burial. A large number from this place attended the services at the grave.

7 Jan 1892 Died at Centertown.

Allen Campbell, one of the leading merchants of Centertown, was taken sick a week or so ago, and rapidly grew worse until one side was paralyzed. Dr. Dunlap, his attending physician, called into consultation Dr. Burke, of this city, Dr. Elston, of Elston and, Dr. Elston, of Jefferson City, but all their skill was unavailing and Mr. Campbell died on Monday of this week. Mr. Campbell leaves a family, consisting of a wife, two grown daughters and a son.

Died.

At the residence of her parents in this city, Thursday last, Miss Alta Edith Campbell, daughter of Dr. T. C. Campbell, aged sixteen years. The remains were buried at the Burke cemetery in this city. Friday.

She had for some time been afflicted with lung trouble and was confined to her room some three or four weeks. Miss Alta was possessed of a sweet disposition, intelligent, interesting and kind, a great favorite not only with her parents but with all who knew her. How sad for one so young and promising to die! and yet it is fitting that we submit without a murmur. The decree has gone forth that all must die—there is no security for young or old.

Death of Houston George.

Houston George died on Wednesday of last week, at his home near Prairie Home, from a stroke of paralysis that came upon him the Saturday previous. He was probably eighty-three years of age, and one of the landmarks of Eastern Cooper, having settled in that locality at a very early period, the family coming from Tennessee. He was a man of strong character, well thought of, and leaves a large family connection.

7 JAN 1892

Death of Thomas Stephens.

Thomas Stephens died Monday at his home in Linn township, after a short illness, of la grippe, aged ninety-one years, three months and seventeen days. Mr. Stephens was born at Pendleton Court House, South Carolina, September 18, 1800, and came to this section of Missouri in 1819. He has resided on the farm near Splice creek, where he died, since 1827—sixty-four years. He leaves two daughters and three sons. The eldest son, Reuben Stephens, residing in Cass county, is probably sixty-five years of age. Mr. Stephens has been an active worker all his life, and retained both his mental and physical faculties almost intact to the end. He was a man of considerable force of character, a good citizen and a member of the Baptist church for many years. He took an active interest in public affairs, was a close reader and a well informed man. We know of but one older man at this time in the county, Mr. L. L. Wood, of this city. All that was left of the venerable Thomas Stephens was laid away on Splice creek, near the old home that he loved so dearly, yesterday.

Death of Elder George W. Longan.

The death of Mr. Longan at his home at Sweet Springs, December 29th, was a surprise and a shock to his many warm friends in this city and vicinity. He had been confined about a week with la grippe, that went into pneumonia.

Elder Longan was a man of extraordinary mental culture, and one of the most logical reasoners connected with the ministry of the Christian church in this state. He was somewhat deficient in pulpit oratory, which had a tendency to check the force of his discourses with an audience, but to the attentive listener his sermons were always decidedly interesting. Mr. Longan was a native Missourian, born in Cooper county, December 31, 1819, and died within two days of his seventy-second birthday. His school advantages during his youthful days were limited, but like many of our classical men, he educated himself, and was versed in Greek, Latin and Hebrew.

He had charge of the Christian church in this city continuously for four years, giving up the charge some two years ago, and was universally respected and esteemed as an able minister and a conscientious Christian man.

The Longan family were one of the pioneer families of this county, two brothers, Austin B., the father of the subject of this sketch, and John W., coming here from Virginia as early as 1815 or '16. John W. was a Baptist preacher of considerable note. A large number of the decendants reside in this and other counties in Missouri.

He was Only Ninety-Two.

Calvin Farris, the oldest man in the vicinity of St. Louis, died at his home in Kirkwood last Thursday afternoon, at the age of ninety-two. He married in early life and was father of ten children, two of them residing in Montebau county—Laura, wife of John Quincy Farris, and Henrietta, wife of Madison Morrow. After his marriage he moved to the present site of St. Louis, which was then a mere wilderness, the western limits of the city being about Seventh street. He was a native Virginian, and was quite a character in St. Louis on account of association and his great age.

Saturday's Republic publishes his picture, and, among other things, the following: "A few days before his death he stated to a Republic reporter that when he first visited the city of St. Louis it was not much, if any larger than a number of its suburban towns are now. His first trip to the city was for the purpose of selling a number of mink and coon skins, for which he received $1.25, which was the first money he ever earned. At that time there were but few roads in the country, and in company with his father he assisted in cutting the trees and opening a portion of one of the first roads through the country. Indian camps were located here, the city limits are now pastured upon the hills where villages have been built."

In Memoriam.

Died at his home in Columbus, Johnson county, Missouri, at 10 o'clock A. M., Saturday, January 9th, Levi T. Hyatt, after an illness of some eight or ten days with what the physicians pronounced the grippe, lacking but three days of being seventy-seven years of age.

Mr. Hyatt was a native of Maryland, born at or near Hyattstown, Montgomery county, Jan. 12th, 1815. His father, Asa Hyatt, and his grandfather, Bill Hyatt, lived and died in the same neighborhood, the old town bearing the family name. His ancestors moving over with the early English settlers of the colony of Maryland. He was raised and educated near his birth place, coming to Cooper county, Missouri, in the early forties, living with an uncle, Dr. George Phillips, near Pilot Grove, in that county. He remained but a year or two and returned to Maryland, and married. In 1855 he married his second wife, Mrs. Ann Lee Wolfe, who survives him. In the spring of 1860, with his large family numbering thirteen, he again left Maryland for Missouri, landing at Lexington in April of that year. He immediately bought a farm one and one-half miles east of Warrensburg, where he remained until 1867, when he located at Columbus in that county, and in connection with a step-son, G. C. Wolfe, was engaged in the mercantile business for many years. He was a merchant in Maryland and in the two states has probably served thirty-five years of his life as postmaster, holding that position at Columbus at the time of his death.

When a young man he entered the Christian life in becoming a member of the Methodist denomination, afterwards, about forty years ago, attaching himself to the Christian church, of which he was indeed a zealous, consistent member. He was a great reader & a man of positive convictions and yet extremely amiable and considerate, guarding himself closely and never wilfully offending anyone. He was always generous, kind and hospitable to all whom he came in contact with. The large family that accompanied him to Missouri nearly thirty-two years ago are all, save one, still living, located in different sections of the state, and his memory with each of them individually will be revered. His life work is over; he has performed his part well and his genial spirit no doubt still lives contented and happy. Miss Ella Wood Dies in Sedalia.

The death of Miss Ella Wood at the home of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bowlen, in Pettis county, Thursday last, was a surprise to her many friends in this city, notwithstanding the fact that her lungs were known to be in a delicate condition. She left here probably ten days previous, visiting relatives in Sedalia and Pettis county.

Miss Wood was the daughter of Dr. Presley Wood, of this city, who died many years ago, and the step-daughter of H. A. Yarnell, Esq., and was a young lady of rare accomplishments. Her good qualities of head and heart served to render her extremely popular. Just a few weeks previous her mother, Mrs. Yarnell, died. Capt Yarnell and friends went up to Sedalia and on Saturday the remains reached this city. At the depot there was a large assemblage in waiting to pay the last tribute of respect to all that was left of the dear girl. Six of our prominent young men gently lifted the coffin from the express car to the hearse; thence the procession proceeded to the Baptist church, where Rev. N. Allee preached the funeral discourse and the body was laid away at the Masonic cemetery. The pall bearers were: Frank Rice, Matt Johnson, T. J. Buchanan, Chas. Burkhardt, Richard Bruce and Albert Loren.
